CO COURTS	Important Information about Protection Orders
-----------	---

1. General Information

- a) This Order must be given full faith and credit and be enforced in every civil or criminal court of the United States, Indian Tribe or United States Territory pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §2265. This Court has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter.
- b) Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §922(g)(8), it is unlawful for any person to possess or transfer a firearm who is subject to a court order that restrains such person from harassing, stalking or threatening an intimate partner of such person or a child of such intimate partner or person, or engaging in order conduct that would place an intimate partner in reasonable fear of bodily injury to the partner or child.

2. Notice to Restrained Person

- a) You are directed to appear before this Court on the date shown on this form to show cause, if any exists, why this Temporary Protection Order should not be made permanent.
- b) This Temporary Protection Order will be made permanent without further notice or service or the Court may continue the Temporary Protection Orders to a date certain. You are notified that the Permanent Civil Protection Orders will remain in effect until further order of the Court. Such Permanent Order will subject you to Federal Laws restricting firearms possession and sale 18 U.S.C. §922(g)(8), §924(a)(2).
- c) A violation of a Protection Order may be a misdemeanor, municipal ordinance violation or a delinquent act (if committed by a juvenile) and is a deportable offense. Anyone over the age of eighteen who violates this order may be subject to fines and jail time. Violation of this Order may constitute contempt of court. Anyone under the age of 18 who violates this Order may be subject to commitment to the Department of Human Services for up to two years.
- d) You may be arrested or taken into custody without notice if a law enforcement office has probable cause to believe that you have violated this Order.
- e) If you violate this Order thinking that the Protected Person or anyone else has given you permission, you are wrong and can be arrested and prosecuted. The terms of this Order cannot be changed by anyone but the Court.

- f) Possession of a firearm while this Protection Order is in effect may constitute a Felony under Federal Law, 18 U.S.C. §922(g)(8).
- g) Firearm and ammunition relinquishment must be in accordance with C.R.S. § 13-14-105.5(2), (4). Failure to comply with the order to relinquish may result in an arrest warrant.

3. Notice to Protected People

- a) If this Order is violated, you may:
 - 1) Call law enforcement.
 - 2) START CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE RESTRAINED PERSON.
- b) You can't give the Restrained Person Permission to change or ignore this Order in any way. Only the Court can change this Order.
- c) If you receive a return of service for the Protection Order (JDF 398), you must file it with the court.

4. Notice to Law Enforcement Officers

- a) If the Order has not been personally served, the law enforcement officer responding to a call of assistance shall serve a copy of said Order on the person named/Restrained Person therein and shall write the time, date, and manner of service on the Protected Persons' copy of such Order and shall sign such statement. C.R.S. §13-14-107(2), (3). The officer will provide the Protected Person or the Court with a completed return of service form.
- b) You shall use every reasonable means to enforce this Protection Order.
- c) You shall arrest or take into custody, or if an arrest would be impractical under the circumstances, seek a warrant for the arrest of the Restrained Person when you have information amounting to probable cause that the Restrained Person has violated or attempted to violate any provision of this Order subject to criminal sanctions pursuant to C.R.S. § 18-6-803.5. or municipal ordinance and the Restrained Person has been properly served with a copy of this Order or the Restrained Person has received actual notice of the existence and substance of such Order.
- d) You shall enforce this Order even if there is no record of it in the Protection Order Central Registry.
- e) You shall take the Restrained Person to the nearest jail or detention facility.
